

Incorporating child labour in policies and strategies

© IFAD/Susan Beccio

This course explains national and international legislation aimed at preventing and reducing child labour. It provides suggestions on how to assess whether a policy adequately addresses child labour in agriculture in your country. It also suggests opportunities within the development and implementation of a national rural development or agricultural policy where consideration of child labour concerns could make a difference.

1.5 hours

Available in English

You will learn about

- International standards on child labour relevant to agriculture
- How to assess national policies for addressing child labour in agriculture and identify gaps in policy coherence
- The impact of agricultural and other policies on child labour
- How to integrate child labour in each stage of the policy cycle
- The important factors to consider when seeking to integrate child labour

Digital badge

Who is the course for?

The course will contribute to the capacity development of policy makers and advisors of agricultural related policy; agricultural programme designers and implementers; agricultural producer organizations; agricultural researchers; and agricultural statisticians who wish and need to know more about tackling child labour in agriculture.

Key partners

This course was developed by the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) in collaboration with the International Labour Organization (ILO). It was co-funded by the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

Goal of the programme is to:

- raise awareness about the importance of addressing child labour in the agricultural sector
- to provide concrete suggestions to be applied in real life agricultural policy and programming situations

FAO elearning Academy

This course is available through the FAO elearning Academy.

Please visit the Academy and browse our extensive catalogue in multiple languages. Register once to access over 100 titles.

All courses are available as a global public good for free.

How to access the course

1. Go to the e-learning Academy: elearning.fao.org
2. Register and log-in with your user name and password

© FAO, 2020
CA8695EN/1/04.20

[😊] Registration is fast and easy