

TERMS AND CONDITIONS MOUNTAIN FUTURE AWARD

By submitting an application on the Mountain Future Award page (<https://www.fao.org/international-mountain-day/award/en/>), all applicants of the Mountain Future Award hereby acknowledge and agree to these Terms and Conditions, which are detailed below:

General Provisions

- Applicants acknowledge and accept to be bound by these Terms and Conditions, which include by reference FAO's general Terms and Conditions. In the event of a conflict or inconsistency between these Terms and Conditions and FAO's general Terms and Conditions, the present Terms and Conditions shall prevail to the extent necessary to resolve such conflict or inconsistency.
- FAO has the right to consider ineligible any application forms that are incomplete and any applications that do not comply with the terms and conditions specified or are submitted beyond the deadline.
- No applicants under the age of 18 will be considered for the Award.
- FAO will not pay any fees, nor pay any costs relating to, participation in the Mountain Future Award, apart from the prize outlined for the award winner.
- Information provided by applicants who wish to submit an application, including personal data such as contact details when registering via the form will be processed by FAO for the purpose of managing the entries to the Mountain Future Award and stored in the FAO Awards database in accordance with FAO's corporate rules, procedures, policies and practice, including its Data Protection Policy, to the exclusion of any single national system of law. Such information will be used and may be made available to third parties exclusively for services related to and within the purposes of the FAO Mountain Future Award page or FAO institutional activities. Please also read the FAO Data Protection and Privacy Notice for more information about how FAO processes your personal data.
- FAO reserves the right to verify the eligibility of applicants or that of any entry (including users' identity and address) and to consider not eligible any application that is not in accordance with these Terms and Conditions or who tampers with the entry process. By submitting entries to the Mountain Partnership Secretariat, applicants agree that their Contact and Personal Data may be processed, shared, and otherwise used for the purposes and within the context of the Mountain Future Award and any other purposes outlined in these Terms and Conditions.

Responsibility of Applicants

Applicants acknowledge and agree that they:

- will comply with all applicable laws, including, without limitation, privacy laws, intellectual property laws, anti-spam laws;
- cannot create a false identity, or misrepresent their identity, affiliation with a person or entity, past or present, or their current or previous positions and qualifications;
- are responsible for ensuring the accuracy, integrity and security of the information that they provide when accessing the Application Form, including any personal data;
- Unless otherwise indicated, applicants acknowledge and agree that the material submitted through the Application Form may be reused and redistributed by others for non-commercial purposes, in line with the objectives of the Mountain Future Award, without requesting prior written permission. Where specific authorization to reuse and redistribute material is required, applicants must obtain the necessary permission from the respective rights holder(s).

- By registering and submitting the entries, applicants agree with the above Personal Data and Privacy Notice and that FAO may - in accordance with the choices made by them about who can see their content or information, when applicable - reproduce, distribute, display and create derivative works, without any further consent, notice and/or compensation to them or others, of the data provided in the nomination form, including personal data, in connection with the purpose of the Mountain Future Award and the promotion of FAO's work, on the:

- Mountain Future Award web page;
 - the FAO Awards web page;
 - FAO corporate website: www.fao.org;
 - Corporate videos or digital recordings to illustrate the work of the Organization;
 - Printed FAO publications or brochures;
 - Social media channels;
 - Any other media used by FAO in its communications.
- At any time, applicants can request FAO to delete, review, correct or update their personal data by writing to FAO-Data-Privacy@fao.org.
- Changes to these Terms and Conditions will be posted on this webpage and will be available via the FAO website. By participating in the Mountain Future Award subsequent to FAO making available an amended version of these Terms and Conditions, applicants acknowledge, agree and consent to such amendment(s).

Disclaimer and limitation of liability

- The information on the Mountain Future Award page (<https://www.fao.org/international-mountain-day/award/en/>) is provided for the convenience of users.
- The mention of an institution or of its services on the Mountain Future Award page, does not imply that these have been endorsed, accredited or recommended by FAO.
- FAO reserves the right to discontinue and/or modify, for any reason and without notice, at any time, the posting of any or all of the information contained on the Mountain Future Award page.
- FAO shall not be liable for any loss or damage arising from, or directly or indirectly connected to, the use of, reference to, or reliance on any content provided in the Mountain Future Award page, including, but not limited to, any liability arising from any intentional or negligent misuse, errors, disclosure, undue transfer, loss or destruction of data that may occur.
- The designations employed and the presentation of material through the Mountain Future Award page do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of FAO, concerning the legal or development status of any country, territory, city or area or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers or boundaries.

Privileges and Immunities

Nothing contained in or related to these Terms and Conditions, nor any acts performed or statements made in relation to the Mountain Future Award including the Mountain Future Award page, shall be deemed as a waiver, express or implied, of any of the privileges and immunities of FAO, or as its acceptance of the applicability of any national laws, or of the jurisdiction of the courts of any country over disputes arising out of, or in connection with, these Terms and Conditions.