

Agriculture Transformation: Policy and Institutional Experiences from Asia
Technical Meeting Schedule, 19 August 2019, 09:00 – 16:00
FAO/RAP, Main Conference Room

Overall Study Objectives

The main objective of this study is to retrospectively take stock of key lessons in policies, legislations and institutional innovations that have led to successful and inclusive transformation in the agricultural sector. The study is expected to support policy makers and practitioners in less developed countries in Asia and elsewhere build on successful experiences while attempting to facilitate and navigate agricultural and rural transformation.

Technical Meeting Objectives and Outputs

The key objective of the technical meeting is to exchange views and discuss methodology, scope and final output for the cross-country paper, focus countries and the final study.

Expected outputs from the workshop will include:

1. Agreed methodology and scope for the cross-country study;
2. Agreed methodology, scope and an annotated outline for the three country papers;
3. Schedule for delivery of draft papers; and
4. Process for collaboration and finalisation of the final publication;
