

AGRICULTURAL Transition

www.ag-transition.org

Agricultural Transition is an open publishing website that collects case studies, documents, reports, articles, videos and briefs on agroecology and other forms of sustainable farming experiences and policies.

It is a joint effort of civil society organizations to show the wide range of sustainable agricultural practices being put in place by peasants and other small scale food producers around the world.

Agricultural Transition is supported by the More and Better Network. The following organizations are members of the Editorial Board: Action Aid, IFOAM, ILEIA, MAELA, SEARICE, UK Food Group, USC Canada, and The More and Better Network.

Join us by uploading your online material directly on the webpage or write to post@ag-transition.org.
