

Participatory frameworks and stakeholder strengthening for rural poverty reduction

© Ranak Martin

This course is the third in a series of e-learning courses on Rural Poverty Reduction. In it, you will develop an understanding of the actors and organizations involved in rural poverty reduction and the ways in which they interact. The importance of participatory framework, approaches and methods is highlighted, and the importance of a collaborative and inclusive way of working. Finally, the importance that capacities are developed in all individual actors and all rural organizations.

2.5 hours

Available in English

You will learn about

- Participatory frameworks as tools to include vulnerable people through the design and implementation of rural poverty reduction policies and programmes.
- Participatory, collaborative and community-based approaches and methods for research.
- The role of rural organizations, such as cooperatives, trader associations and social movements, in rural poverty reduction, and the role of collaboration.
- The three dimensions of capacity development and its role in rural poverty reduction - Capacity assessment and capacity development challenges.
- The connections between gender and poverty.

Digital badge

Who is the course for?

The course aims to support an integrated, multisectoral approach to rural poverty reduction, by improving the knowledge and capacities of a range of professionals, including:

- Policymakers, policy administrators and policy officers
- Researchers
- Development practitioners
- Members of civil society and rural organizations.

Key partners

This course was developed by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) in collaboration with the International Policy Centre for Inclusive Growth (IPC/UNDP) and with the contribution of the International Training Centre of the International Labour Organization (ITC/ILO).

FAO eLearning Academy

This course is available through the FAO eLearning Academy.

Please visit the Academy and browse our extensive catalogue in multiple languages. Register once to access over 100 titles.

All courses are available as a global public good for free.

How to access the course

1. Go to the e-learning Academy: elearning.fao.org
2. Register and log-in with your user name and password

© FAO, 2020
CA9034EN/1/05.20

[😊] Registration is fast and easy