

Course 2: Building equitable and inclusive agrifood systems

This course is intended to strengthen the knowledge and competencies of parliamentarians and policymakers on the relevance of gender issues in agrifood systems and know how to build equitable and inclusive agrifood systems, and be able to monitor the gender impacts of policies and investments. It gives an overview of agrifood systems and coordinated actions towards the food supply, the food demand and the food environment. The course also illustrates how agrifood systems are an entry point for addressing global gender and youth inequalities, and the importance of the UN Food Systems Summit in fulfilling these goals.

50 minutes

Available in English

You will learn about

- The crucial linkages between agrifood systems and gender equality.
- How to support policy design for building equitable and inclusive agrifood systems.
- Methods for monitoring the gender-related impacts of policies and investments.
- How agrifood systems can act as an entry point to address gender and youth inequalities.
- The commitments made at the UN Summit on Food systems.

Digital badge

Who is the course for?

This course is targeted to professionals working in fields related to agriculture, food systems, gender equality, policy-making and sustainable development. Specifically, it is a valuable course for parliamentarians, policymakers; development practitioners and non-governmental organization (NGO) staff, agricultural professionals and advocates and activists committed to build sustainable and resilient food systems.

Key partners

This course was developed by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) together with the International Training Centre of the International Labour Organization (ITC/ILCO), The International Institute for Sustainable Development (IISD), OXFAM International and Women in Law & Development in Africa (WiLDAF).

FAO eLearning Academy

This course is available through the FAO eLearning Academy.

Please visit the Academy and browse our extensive catalogue in multiple languages. Register once to access hundreds of titles.

All courses are available as a global public good for free.

How to access the course

1. Go to the e-learning Academy: elearning.fao.org
2. Register and log-in with your user name and password

© FAO, 2024
CD0556EN/1/05.24

[😊] Registration is fast and easy

FAO eLearning Academy: elearning.fao.org